ATTENTION ALL MEMBERS

Committee Week at OLLI!
Monday-Thursday, May 13-16
 (EV & CH) 11:45am-1:15pm

Evanston Location: 500 Davis Center, Suite 700
Chicago Location: Wieboldt Hall, 339 E. Chicago Ave.

All members encouraged to attend. No registration required! All week committee members will be on hand during lunchtime to answer questions regarding what they do and how you can get involved! OLLI depends on its member volunteers to help defray cost that would otherwise have to be covered through member dues. Responsibilities can be minimal or extensive, depending on the committee and tasks at hand. Stop by to learn about the many ways you can give back to OLLI by serving on one of the committees, or lending a few hours in other volunteer activities to help OLLI become even more dynamic, creative, and welcoming.

LECTURE SERIES

OPEN TO ALL CURRENT OLLI MEMBERS

Economic Voter Intimidation and the Crisis of Workplace Democracy in Late 19th Century U.S.

Tuesday, May 14 (EV)

12-1pm

Location: 500 Davis Center, Suite 700*Streaming to Chicago: Wieboldt Hall, 339 E. Chicago Ave.*

In American political history, the Gilded Age (1876-1900) is popularly known as an era of extremely high voter turnout with a spirit of cheerful political engagement among all eligible (white and male) voters that our modern cynical age sorely lacks. Missing from this image is the reality of what voting for working class men in the rapidly industrializing United States looked and felt like. In this talk Gideon Cohn-Postar traces voter participation from factory floor to the polling place, exploring the coercion, intimidation, and bribery that typified elections for thousands of workers throughout the U.S. While it is long-forgotten now, the struggle over the right of employees to vote free of pressure from their employers guides much of the conduct of modern elections and our own experiences at the polls.

Gideon Cohn-Postar is a doctoral candidate in American history at Northwestern University. His work focuses on voter intimidation and fraud and the hazy boundaries that American society draws around the concept of political legitimacy. His research has been supported by the Gilder-Lehrman Institute of American History, the Social Science Research Council, and the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation.

This event is free and open to all current OLLI members. Registration is required for both campuses. Coffee and biscuits will be served at the streaming location only.

NOONTIME LECTURE SERIES

OPEN TO ALL CURRENT OLLI MEMBERS

How Hamilton Happened Wednesday, May 15 (CH)

12-1pm

Location: Wieboldt Hall, 339 E. Chicago Ave.

Streaming to Evanston: 500 Davis Center, Suite 700

Join us to hear the story of how Hamilton has affected Broadway (and Chicago) theater as well as the nation's culture and politics. Chris Jones will tell the story of Broadway's renaissance, from the darkest days of the AIDS crisis through the unparalleled financial, artistic and political success of Lin-Manuel Miranda's Hamilton. It is the story of the embrace of risk and substance, where the theater thrived by finally embracing the bold statement and inserting itself into the national conversation. Chris was in the theaters when and where it mattered and whether you booed or applauded for the many plays and musicals he discusses, there is no denying that Jones vividly captures the theater's new clout as it attempts to change American society for the better.

This event is free and open to all current OLLI members. Registration is required for both campuses. Coffee and biscuits will be served at the streaming location only.

Book Sale & Signing

Chris Jones' new book, Rise Up! Broadway and American Society from Angels in America to Hamilton will be on sale after the lecture ($24.95) and Chris will sign purchased copies. Cash, credit card and checks accepted.

Chris Jones is the chief theater critic and Sunday culture columnist of The Chicago Tribune, where he has written thousands of reviews and columns. His work has appeared often in The New York Times, The Washington Post, and Variety. Chris was named one of the most influential theater critics in America by American Theater and is a winner of the George Jean Nathan Award for Dramatic Criticism. Chris is the author of the new book Rise Up! Broadway and American Society from Angels in America to Hamilton (Bloomsbury).

Evanston Artists: Images of Social Justice

Thursday, May 23

12pm-1pm

Location: 500 Davis Center, Suite 700
Streaming to Chicago: Wieboldt Hall, 339 E. Chicago Ave.

Local artists, Fran Joy and Jevoid Simmons, join us to share their vibrant art and the compelling stories that inspired them. Fran Joy is an Evanston artist whose paintings portray the power, strength and triumph of the human spirit. Fran specializes in portraiture of current and recent fighters in the struggle for civil rights, and in portraying the strength and vibrancy of the female. Jevoid Simmons' paintings and carvings create a visual narrative of his own family's escape from rural Alabama in the early 1950s when his father fled from a lynch mob after an altercation with his boss. Jevoid's work is a tangible reminder of the heritage of gross injustice and personal hardship that many African-American families can still remember. This event is free and open to all current OLLI members.
