Spring Semester Registration Update

Registration for spring study groups is off to a fantastic start despite some technical difficulties. As of Friday, we already have 956 students registered for the spring semester! Even with the difficulties, 79% of students were able to register themselves.

Registration continues until February 22. The fastest way to register is online. By using the OLLI Online Registration System, you will be immediately enrolled in a study group and receive a confirmation email shortly after check out. If a study group is full, you will be given the option to be placed on a wait-list and you may choose another study group immediately.

Industrialization along the U.S.-Mexico Border and Its Political Backlash

Thursday, February 7

12-1pm

Location: 500 Davis Center, Suite 700, Evanston

Much of the history of the U.S.-Mexico borderlands during the 20th century focuses on conflict caused by undocumented immigration. It is also important to consider how both countries cooperated and collaborated to solve mutual problems along their shared boundary. This talk details how President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz and President Lyndon Baines Johnson formed a bilateral agency to industrialize and improve the standard of living in the rural expanses of the U.S.-Mexico borderlands. The bilateral development plan provoked opposition from both conservative Republicans and liberal labor leaders. The U.S. Mexico border plan also impacted national political coalitions in the 1970s labor unions, which turned away from the Democratic Party to prevent the "exportation" of American jobs.

Sean Parulian Harvey is a doctoral candidate in history at Northwestern University. His dissertation is entitled "Assembly Lines: Maquiladoras and the Making of the U.S.-Mexico Borderlands." In this project, he traces the origins of maquiladoras, export-oriented assembly factories located along the U.S.-Mexico border, in the economic and environmental policies of the New Deal and Great Society.

This event is free and open to all current OLLI members. Registration is required for the live event in Evanston. Registration is not required for the streaming in Chicago.

OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

Film Screening & Discussion Wednesday, February 13

6pm

Location: Rotary International, 1560 Sherman Ave., 3rd Floor Auditorium, Evanston, IL

Join us for a special screening of this award-winning documentary that examines the life and legacy of Fred Rogers, the beloved host of the popular children's show Mister Rogers' Neighborhood. Documentary filmmaker Morgan Neville, takes us behind the scenes and shows us how one unassuming minister, puppeteer, writer and producer was able to inspire generations of children with compassion and limitless imagination. There hadn't been anything like Mister Rogers on television before and there hasn't been since.

Discussion to follow the screening.

This event is free and open to the public. Registration is required.

Black History Month Celebration at OLLI

THIRD ANNUAL CELEBRATION - OPEN TO ALL CURRENT OLLI MEMBERS

Black History Month Celebration Friday, February 22

10am-12pm

Location: Weiboldt Hall, 339 E. Chicago Ave., Room 147, Chicago

Join us for our third annual Black History Month Celebration! We will continue our tradition of honoring the achievements and contributions of African-Americans with lecture, song, and storytelling. Our Keynote Speaker, Dr. Jabbar Bennett, will discuss the history of diversity at Northwestern, last year's commemoration of the storming of the Bursar's office, and the current university initiatives. In addition to Dr. Bennett we will enjoy storytelling by Emily Hooper-Lansana and musical performances by vocalist Geneva Norman and musician Babu Atiba Walker. Coffee and refreshments will be served.

Jabbar R. Bennett, Ph.D. serves as associate provost for diversity and inclusion at Northwestern University. In addition, he is an associate professor of medicine at Northwestern's Feinberg School of Medicine. As the University's chief diversity officer, he is responsible for helping to create a diverse, inclusive and welcoming environment for all Northwestern community members. His full bio can be read here.

Storyteller: Emily Hooper-Lansana

Vocalist: Geneva Norman

Musician: Babu Atiba Walker

This event is free and open to all current OLLI members and their guests as well as the Northwestern community. Registration is required.

Science Café

Northwestern's Science Café is a forum for the discussion of important and interesting scientific issues. Events are informal and open to the public. Cafés start with an engaging talk from the research scientist who introduces the topic. It is not a lecture, so anyone can ask a question and there is never a cover charge. Science Café events are held at Firehouse Grill, 750 Chicago Ave. in Evanston on the third or fourth Wednesday of each month from September through May. View Upcoming Event.
